Campbell Named Director of Internal Review at OTS

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 15, 1999 - Lynnwood Campbell, a long-time employee of the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) and its predecessor agency, has been appointed director of internal review. In this position, Campbell will lead the agency's quality assurance function, focusing on the agency's operating effectiveness and efficiency.

Campbell also will interface with the General Accounting Office (GAO) and the Treasury Department's inspector general on behalf of OTS, which is a bureau of the Treasury.

Until his appointment to the new position, Campbell was manager of securities filings at OTS. He started his federal regulatory service with the former Federal Home Loan Bank Board in 1980, moving to OTS in 1989 when it succeeded the Bank Board.

In addition to government service, Campbell has served his own community of Alexandria, Virginia, as a two-term member of both the Alexandria School Board and the Alexandria Human Rights Commission. He is the current chairman of the Alexandria Neighborhood Health Services Board of Directors, and has led a number of clothing drives at OTS for the needy. Campbell has an accounting degree from Howard University.

###

The Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS), a bureau of the U.S. Treasury, regulates and supervises the nation's thrift industry. OTS' mission is to ensure the safety and soundness of thrift institutions and to support their role as home mortgage lenders and providers of other community credit and financial services.
