

Chau Do
Deputy Comptroller for Risk Analysis

Chau Do serves as the Deputy Comptroller for the Risk Analysis Division within Economics at the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC).

In this capacity, Dr. Do oversees the four Risk Analysis divisions in the agency's Economics Department that provide expertise to the agency on quantitative modeling of credit risk, market risk, compliance risk, and enterprise-wide risk. She also serves as a key advisor and technical expert on practical and policy issues related to the use of quantitative models by banks and the oversight of banks' risk models by supervisors. She assumed these duties on December 23, 2018.

Prior to this role, Dr. Do served as the Director for the Compliance Risk Analysis Division. She joined the OCC in 2004 and previously worked at the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development as an economist.

Dr. Do holds a Ph.D., in economics from the University of California, Santa Barbara, and a bachelor's degree from Santa Clara University.
